The positions are already open. Members can apply through Handshake, which can be found on UCLA's website.

Milliman is among the world's largest providers of actuarial and related products and services. Our mission is to help our clients protect the health and financial well-being of people everywhere.

Founded in 1947, Milliman is an independent firm with offices in major cities around the globe. We are owned and managed by our principals—senior consultants whose selection is based on their technical, professional and business achievements.

Milliman serves the full spectrum of business, financial, government, union, education, and nonprofit organizations. In addition to our consulting actuaries, Milliman's body of professionals includes numerous other specialists, ranging from clinicians to economists.

Despite our impressive growth over the past seven decades, we still operate according to the guiding principles of our founders, Wendell Milliman and Stuart Robertson. We retain their rigorous standards of professional excellence, peer review and objectivity. We remain committed to developing innovative tools and products and providing expert solutions. And we continue to earn our clients' trust by keeping our focus fixed on their business objectives.

There has not been official openings yet, but we are currently taking resumes and are open to hiring the right candidates.

We represent the San Francisco Property & Casualty practice. For openings in the other offices, please visit the Milliman website.

Our practice is fast-growing and emphasize innovation. Our clients include technology start-up companies and governmental organizations in addition to traditional insurance companies. We are excited to meet talented candidates and get a chance to develop their careers.

Molina Healthcare serves the community by providing quality healthcare to low-income individuals and families eligible for Medicaid. We are continuing to expand this focus and grow our business by also delivering quality healthcare to members through the Marketplace (ACA) and Medicare product lines.

At Molina Healthcare, the Actuarial Department is one of the fastest growing departments in the company with many opportunities for growth as an actuary. You will have the opportunity to work as a traditional actuary in pricing and reserving for multiple distinct lines of business within a particular state, or as a predictive analytics expert working on projects that span multiple states and lines of business. Headquartered in Long Beach, CA, you will have the opportunity to work closely with the Chief Actuary, the Finance team and senior leadership of the company as you develop into an expert in your chosen subject area.

Come by and check out our booth for additional information about Molina Healthcare!

Oliver Wyman is one of the four main operating companies of Marsh and McLennan Companies (NYSE: MMC), a global leader in insurance and risk management consulting. The Actuarial Consulting Practice of Oliver Wyman advises clients across a broad spectrum of risk management issues. We are a rapidly growing practice with 19 offices across North America and Europe. Our staff of over 200 professionals includes team members with the highest professional qualifications and nationally recognized experts.

Oliver Wyman's Los Angeles office provides Property and Casualty (P&C) actuarial consulting services. P&C insurance includes many types of insurance that you may be familiar with, such as auto, general liability, home, product defect, workers' compensation, and legal and medical malpractice.

Our firm provides services such as estimating unpaid claim costs, developing premium rates, designing insurance products, modeling and forecasting risks, allocating capital and providing strategic advice. We help our clients to financially and strategically prepare for the future by better understanding the risks that they bear. Using modeling techniques, we can offer solutions to reduce the financial impact of undesirable events as well as the likelihood that these events will occur. Typically, our clients are self-insured entities, companies across all industries that purchase large deductible policies, or insurance companies.

We are representing the Los Angeles office.

The California Department of Insurance (CDI) was created in 1868 as part of a national system of state-based insurance regulation. The insurance marketplace has changed dramatically over time, but consumer protection continues to be the core of CDI's mission. Today, CDI is the largest consumer protection agency in the state. California is the largest insurance market in the United States and the sixth largest insurance market in the world.

Nearly 1,400 dedicated employees work at CDI to oversee more than 1,300 insurance companies and license more than 400,000 agents, brokers, adjusters, and business entities. In the normal course of business, CDI annually processes more than 8,000 rate applications, issues approximately 190,000 licenses (new and renewals) and performs hundreds of financial reviews and examinations of insurers doing business in California. CDI annually receives more than 170,000 consumer assistance calls, investigates more than 37,000 consumer complaints and, as a result, recovers more than $84 million a year for consumers. CDI also annually receives and processes tens of thousands of referrals regarding suspected fraud against insurers and others and conducts criminal investigations resulting in thousands of arrests every year.

We are recruiting from late November to early January for our life Actuarial Office in Los Angeles. The Department of Insurance will also be offering internships in the actuarial fields of health and P&C insurance.

The position will be listed as Student Assistant (Los Angeles) at
