How to Write Bullet Points

A Guide to Strong Bullet Points

Think from a recruiter's point of view: What can this person bring to my company?

Start with strong past-tense action verbs (and use different ones each time)

General Structure:
What you did
How you did it
What is the impact

Example

Weak:

Used Microsoft Excel to calculate rater

Stronger:

Developed driver assignment and driver averaging rater by calculating a Driver Age factor from log-linked GLM relatives

Strong:

Developed driver assignment and driver averaging rater by calculating a Driver Age factor from log-linked GLM relativities in order to evaluate effectiveness of the rating structure

What you did
How you did it
Why it matters

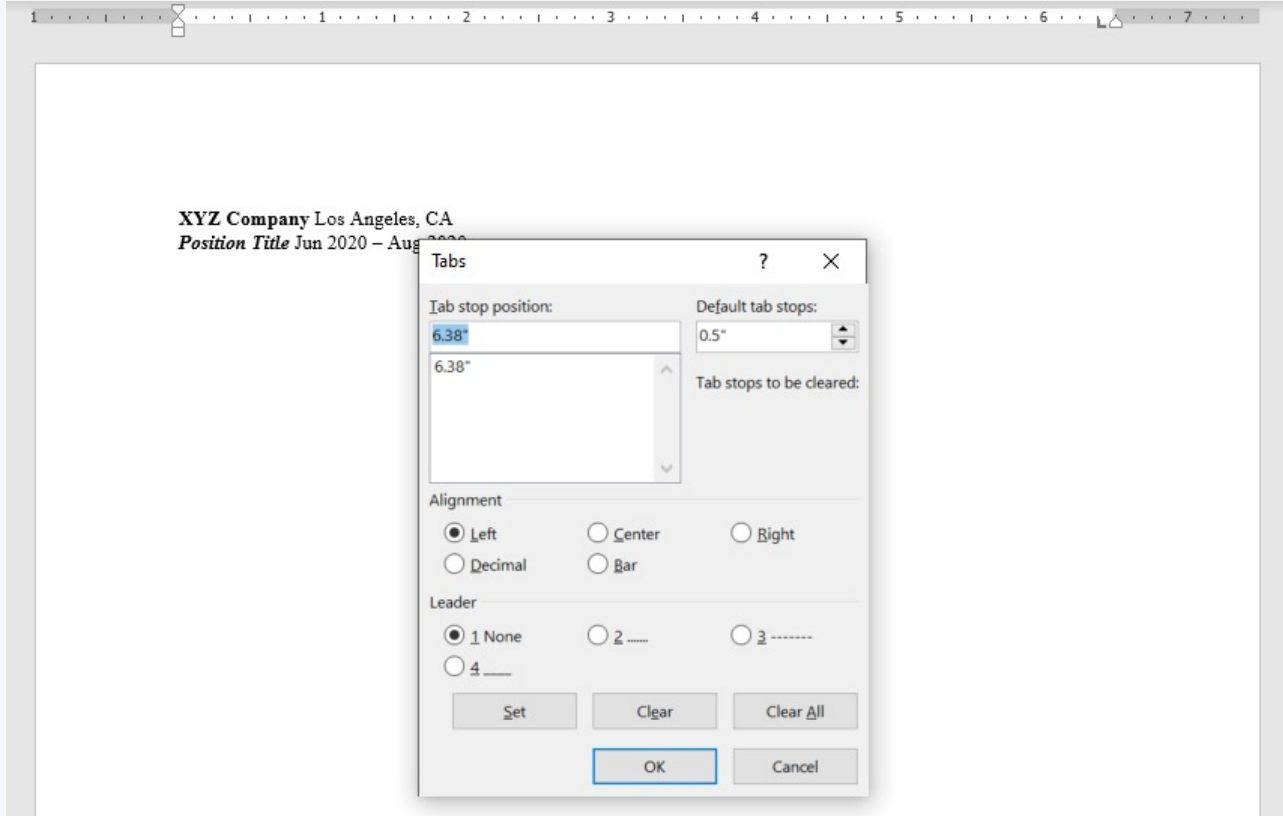

How to Right Align Dates

- Instead of using tabs and spaces to line up dates and locations on the right, try using tab stops
 - Adjusts automatically to keep your text right-aligned even as you add or remove things
 - More precise than manually adding tabs and spaces

Suppose this is what your resume looks like:

1. Move the cursor in front of the text you want to apply tab stops to.
2. Double-click on the ruler at the top of the page. You should see this pop-up window:

3. Select "Right" and then click "OK".
4. Drag the gray tick Mark to the margin stop.

3. Now you can press tab between "XYZ Company" and Los Angeles, CA" and between "Position Title" and "Jun 2020 — Aug 2020"
