- I felt that the discussion sessions were very well run, and I appreciated that the qual problems that we would cover were sent out in advance so that we could try them beforehand

- I really liked how Ben did qual problems in discussion. I found them very helpful for my own preparation of the exams. My only critique is that he is very harsh on grading on the homeworks, but this might be a good thing due to the qual.

- I was really happy with how qual problems were presented and with the qual resources provided on Ben's website. Their grading was also in-depth, so while it hurt to lose a lot of points, I think it really helped me learn.

- Thank you! You have been very helpful.
