

Homework 2 Problem 3 Solution

Konstantin Miagkov

January 28, 2018

Problem 3.

No. One example would be 7 people in a circle and everybody knowing only their neighbors. Then there are no three people who all know each other. Among any 4 people there must be two neighbors by the pigeonhole principle, so there are no 4 people all of whom don't know each other either.